

Go-Mann Adventures, Isle of Man - Accessibility Statement

Introduction

Go-Mann Adventures provides guided walks, tours and skills courses in the outdoors throughout the Isle of Man in varying locations in the countryside, towns and at Island heritage sites.

Walks and tours last from two hours to a full day. Tours may be multi-day. Skills courses are usually run over two days.

We do not have premises, buildings or venues of our own of any type.

Pre-Arrival

Our walks, tours and skills courses start from varying locations.

Details of the location of, and directions to, the meeting point are provided through the calendar and event details on our website at www.go-mannadventures.com and can be supplied direct to an enquirer. Maps are also available on request to assist. Public transport can be used to access the starting point of most (though not all) of our guided walks and tours.

We can provide any information in large print if required. We do not have facilities to prepare documents in braille.

We are happy to help with any information required regarding individual specific needs and to discuss with you the most suitable walk, tour or course for you.

Arrival & Car Parking Facilities

Facilities vary depending upon the starting point of the walk, tour or course. We will be happy to help with detailed information for your selected walk, tour or course and discuss with you any special requirements.

Walking Routes

Most of our guided walks are on countryside footpaths and land open to public ramblage. The ground can be rough, stony and sometimes muddy or boggy. Most of our walks involve walking up and down slopes or hills, some of which are steep. Some of our coastal walks skirt the edge of steep drops. Most of the routes also involve climbing over or squeezing through stiles.

There are not usually public toilets along the route of our walks, although toilets are available at the starting and finishing points of some walks. Participants need to carry essential items with them in a rucksack, such as food, drinks, spare clothing, waterproofs, personal medication etc.

As part of a guided walk or tour we may visit a heritage site which is the responsibility of (or operated by) another body or agency e.g. Manx National Heritage. Note is taken of their own accessibility statements in planning and preparing walk information.

Upon request, we can provide personal walking guides to meet individual requirements for people with physical and sensory access needs. We can, for example, offer guided walks along well made and level tracks suitable for wheelchair users, or to meet other specific needs. We are happy to discuss individual requirements and suggest suitable guided walks.

Food

We do not provide any food but are happy to make you aware of local cafés, restaurants, shops and other facilities in the area of your chosen walk. A packed lunch and things to drink are both required on most of our short-day walks and all our full day hikes. You should bring these with you.
